Case No. 22-11068

The revised Transfer of Claim filing is in response to your letter indicating the failure of the prior transfer attempt due to a possible missing document. A signed agreement is enclosed as the only missing document!

Both the Transferor and the Transferee have in their possession a signed agreement as Evidence of Transfer.

To protect the confidentiality of the agreement with the Transferor, the Transferee has not previously enclosed the signed agreement as Evidence of Transfer. However, upon the notice of failure of the prior transfer attempt due to a possible missing document, the Transferee provides to the Bankruptcy Court, the Debtors, and appropriate professionals an enclosed copy of the signed agreement as Evidence of Transfer.

For your information, the relevant part of the aforementioned agreement indicates that the Transferor and the Transferee have agreed to transfer for security from the former to the latter twenty-five percent (25%) of the claim possessed by the former and listed under Unique Customer Code [REDACTED]

The Transferee cordially requests that the Court and FTX use the redacted version of the previous page for any publication purposes and that the signed agreement between the Transferor and the Transferee be kept confidential.
